1. Introduction

Isavia handles the operation and development of all airports in Iceland and, furthermore, manages air traffic in the Icelandic control area that has a size of 5,4 million square kilometres which makes it one of the largest in the world.

In this document the airport authority details the charges for services at Keflavik International Airport from July 1st 2020.

These charges for test flights will be effective from July 1st 2020. Isavia will annually review its charges.

Isavia reserves the right to amend these terms of service at any time.

Isavia cannot be held accountable for typos or other errors contained in this document.

Invoices for airport charges at Keflavik International Airport will be issued by Isavia ohf.

Please contact aocc@kefairport.is for further information.

Please contact innheimta@isavia.is for inquiries about invoices.

The test flight procedures VR700 11 stipulates the requirements for the test flights and the charges for it. Application form EB700 10 shall be filled out for the test flights.

2. Test Flight Charges

There are two categories of charges for test flights. One is the assessment and preparation charge and the other is the published airport charges.

The assessment and preparation charge is based on the cost of assessing test flight applications by safety management and test pilot professionals, including the cost of preparations and additional introduction for ground staff deemed to be needed during the test period by the airport authority.

Airport charges are based on number of landings, including flights without touchdown, aircraft parking, as well as fees for additional services needed based on the scope of the test flight during the test period.
